

CONFEDERATE VET
DIES IN TENNESSEE*Father of Atlantan Was Last Gray Soldier in Rhea County.

Isaac Newton Broyles, the last Confederate veteran of Rhea county, Tennessee, and father of Charles K. Broyles, of The Constitution's composing room staff, died yesterday afternoon at his home near Spring City, Tenn. He was 91 and had been in failing health for three years.

Mr. Broyles was among the first volunteers in Rhea county, joining the forces of Colonel Carter in '61. He was shot and captured by the Union forces in his first battle in Virginia, but was exchanged several months later and served with distinction throughout the conflict. He participated in the battle at Murfreesboro, Tenn., and in the siege of Knoxville.

Widely known as a planter, Mr. Broyles until several years ago plowed shoulder to shoulder with his helpers in his fields. He was active well into the eighties.

In addition to Charles Broyles, three other sons, W. S., S. H. and T. C. Broyles, survive. Also living are two daughters, Mrs. Addie Howard and Miss Ethel Broyles, and a brother, John Broyles.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at Spring City and burial will follow.

Gem wins by an edge

No other blade ever led by such a close shave. A daily once-over is enough for the densest, blackest, wiriest beard. Gems don't irritate tender skins because Dual-Alignment (exclusive patent of Gem Micromatic Razors) enables even beginners to use the barber's smooth, tugless stroke without risk of scuffs, skips or scrapes.

Dual-Alignment safeguards edges so incredibly sharp that it requires 4840 separate stroppings to produce their unparalleled keenness. We build Gem Blades of 50% thicker surgical steel which dulls so slowly that experience won't be switched to softer, flimsier substitutes.

"No girl should deny her Complexion*Camay's Perfect Care!"

SAYS THIS LOVELY BRIDE OF DIXIE

ATLANTA, GEORGIA

Camay is so surprising. Somehow you don't expect it to do as much as it does—so quickly! No girl should deny her complexion Camay's perfect care.

Sincerely,

Marie Boman

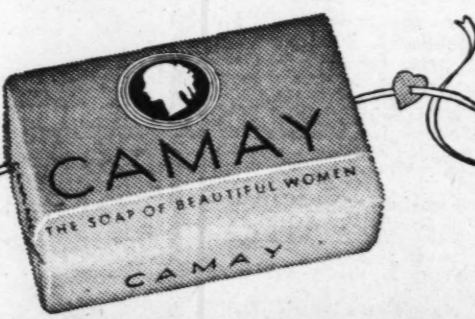

September 26, 1935 (Mrs. John Boman, Jr.)

EVEN ATLANTA never saw a prettier June wedding than Marie Boman's. And even Atlanta—always so proud of its lovely girls—never gave a gayer round of fetes and dinners to anyone. Reasons? Very simple. She's not only lovely to see—but she's a very real person, too. She has glorious brown hair—amazing cornflower-blue eyes, and a pure, clear skin that's "Due to Camay"—to quote her very own words.

Put Camay upon your own beauty schedule. Let those energetic little bubbles clean your skin in a way you know must be good for it. You will see the effect of that luxurious, creamy lather upon your complexion. You will fairly watch your skin grow smoother, clearer, and more attractive. And you'll certainly like Camay's flower-like fragrance!

There's a simple, easy way to find out about Camay—just order a half-dozen cakes today. (The price, by the way, is very low.) Then look closely at your skin after you use Camay. Isn't it smoother and fresher? Every time you use Camay you'll have that same experience—you'll see Camay bringing your own loveliness to light.

Leaders of Chest Discuss Relief Situation

Harrison Jones, vice president of the Coca-Cola Company, and Robert F. Maddox, president of the Community Chest, shown left to right above, are studying a telegram from Harry Hopkins, WPA administrator, which tells that unemployed in Atlanta and other communities will be cut from government relief rolls, and that it is incumbent on various local communities to provide for their sustenance. CHEST LEADERS MEET
TODAY TO STUDY RELIEF

Effect of Hopkins' Stand on Welfare Program To Be Discussed.

Community Chest leaders will meet today to consider the effect upon Atlanta's welfare program of the definite announcement by Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator, which tells that unemployed in Atlanta and other communities will be cut from government relief rolls, and that it is incumbent on various local communities to provide for their sustenance. Staff photo.

Hopkins, in a telegram to Robert F. Maddox, president of the Chest, declared Saturday that the agencies of the Chest must assume a greater part of meeting the needs of the aged, infirm and physically handicapped.

Not one dollar of federal relief will be available for these in 1936, Hopkins declared, pointing out that federal funds would be available only for a works program for able-bodied persons.

"The tentative budgets of the 37 agencies were made during a period of uncertainty about the federal government's position on direct relief," Julian V. Boehm, general campaign chairman, said.

"In order for these agencies to meet the need, it is absolutely necessary for every penny to be raised."

"Each dollar that we fall short means suffering for some one."

"We can't let that happen. I earnestly urge everyone to give more than they gave last year, so that we may reach our goal for the first time since the federal government entered the relief picture."

WOMEN OUST OFFICIALS, RULE VERA CRUZ TOWN

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 3.—(P)—The town of Atzacua, Vera Cruz, was being governed today by a committee of women residents who forced the municipal officials to resign and defied armed attempts to oust them.

Several hundred women were said to have attacked the municipal building and drove out the officials after it had been reported they intended to destroy religious images and implant socialist education.

When troops threatened to fire, the women, opening their arms, defied them to do so and the troops were ordered to withdraw.

Newsy Will $71,000,
Quits Stand for School

DETROIT, Nov. 3.—(P)—William Dix, 27-year-old medical student, gave up his downtown corner newsstand today to go to Harvard for his medical degree with a fortune of $71,000 left to him by a Cincinnati uncle.

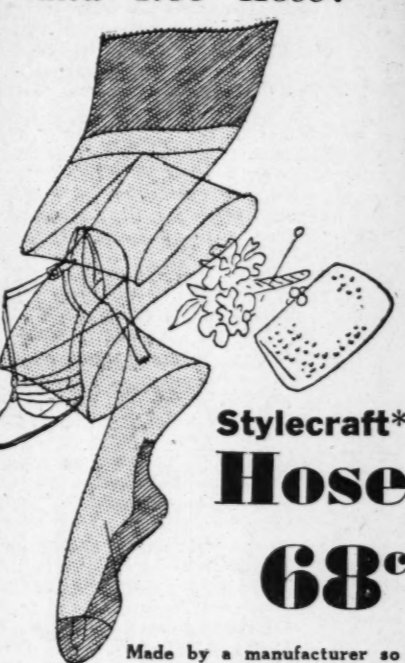

Dix was totally unprepared for the good fortune that came to him Saturday with a notice that his uncle, the late Dr. Robert C. Miller, of Cincinnati, had left him $71,000. He said he didn't know what to do with all the money except to repay his landlady for some of her kindness and finish his medical education at Harvard.

Several years ago he completed four years of pre-medical study at Cincinnati School of Medicine but there were no immediate means to finance his further education.

Two years ago his father died, and his mother died two months later. Dr. Miller, in Cincinnati, he explained, offered to help him then, but he refused and decided to make his own way.

For a time he worked in automobile factories in Detroit, but he was laid off and took to selling newspapers on a downtown street corner.

"Gosh, I don't know what I'm going to do with the rest of the money," said Dix after explaining his plan to study at Harvard. "I'm going to be careful of it though. I know that. You know, I've been washing and ironing my own shirts for a long time."

U. S. COURT OPENS IN NEWNAN TODAY

Underwood To Preside at First Session of Newly- Created Division.

The inaugural session of the United States district court in the newly created Newnan division comprising Pike, Spalding, Fayette, Coweta, Troup, Carroll and Haralson counties will get under way this morning with Judge E. Marvin Underwood presiding.

Approximately 50 cases have been placed on the calendar for the first term and court officials believe that the docket, originally scheduled to cover two weeks, will be cleared within a week.

Attorneys, officials and attaches of the court will be entertained by members of the Newnan Bar Association at a barbecue at 5 o'clock this afternoon on the grounds of the Newnan Country Club. Judge W. L. Stallings, president of the Newnan association, will head the welcoming committee, and arrangements are in charge of Sidney Camp, assistant United States attorney, a resident of Newnan.

Judge Underwood will return to Atlanta November 30 to sit in the three-judge court of which Judge Samuel Sibley and another jurist to be named by Senator Rufus E. Foster will hear the other members. They will hear the injunction plea of the Southern Bell Telephone Company against the Georgia Public Service Commission seeking a restoration of 1933 telephone rates.

Kidney Acidity Curbed Quickly This Easy Way

Doctors Praise Cystex—Brings Quick Help

Cleans Out Acids and Poisons
—Purifies Blood—Brings New Energy in 48 Hours

There are 9 million tiny, delicate tubes or filters in your kidneys which must work every minute of the night and day cleaning out acids, poisons, and wastes from your blood. If your kidneys or bladder do not function right, your body gradually becomes poisoned, your body and work-out before your time, and may suffer from any of these energy-killing symptoms: Getting Up Nights, Loss of Vigor, Leg Pains, Nervousness, Lumbago, Swollen Joints, Rheumatic Pains, Headaches, Dark Circles Under Eyes, Headaches, Frequent Colds, Burning, Smarting, Itching, and Acidity.

But you need not suffer another day from poorly functioning kidneys or bladder without the benefits of a doctor's special prescription called Cystex (pronounced Siss-tex).

Dr. T. J. Russell, famous Doctor, Surgeon and Scientist of London, says: "Cystex is one of the finest remedies I have ever known in my medical practice. Any doctor will recommend it for its definite benefits in the treatment of many functional kidney and bladder disorders. It is safe and harmless."

Cystex is not an excretion—it is quick and sure in action and has been tested and proved in millions of cases throughout the world. Because it combats and corrects many functional kidney disorders, Cystex has gained a world-wide reputation as a successful treatment. Dr. T. A. Ellis, graduate of Toronto University, recently wrote: "Cystex's influence in aiding the treatment of sluggish kidney and bladder functions cannot be overestimated. I have here a formula which I have used in my own practice for many years with excellent results. Cystex hastens the passage of over-acid uric acids, frequent cause of burning, itching, getting up nights and frequent urination."

Because it is a special prescription for poorly functioning kidneys, it promptly flushes from the system all poisons, and brings a new feeling of energy and vitality in 48 hours.

Dr. C. Z. Rendelle, well-known Physician and Medical Examiner of San Francisco, recently wrote: "Since the kidneys purify the blood, the poisons collect in these organs and must be promptly flushed from the system; otherwise, they re-enter the blood stream and create a toxic condition. I can truly commend the use of Cystex."

Because of its world-wide success in even the most stubborn cases, the doctor's prescription called Cystex is offered to sufferers from poorly functioning kidneys and bladder under the fair-play guarantee to fix you up to your complete satisfaction or your money back on return of empty package. Get Cystex from any drugist and try it under the money-back guarantee. See for yourself how much younger, stronger, and healthier you will feel by using Cystex. You up to your complete satisfaction or your money back on return of empty package. Beware of substitutes and remember that the kidneys are endangered by drastic, irritating drugs or neglect. Cystex is the only specially-prepared doctor's prescription guaranteed for kidney dysfunctions. Tell your drugist you must have Cystex (pronounced Siss-tex). Look for it in the black and red striped package.

MORGENTHAU IS HOST TO F. D. R. AT LUNCH

President Presented With Quarter-Century Badge
By Fire Fighters.

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Nov. 3.—(AP) President Roosevelt included a call on his Dutchess county neighbor, Secretary Morgenthau, for lunch today in a Sunday busy with home activities.

The luncheon call at the farm home of the secretary of the treasury was described as social.

Mr. Roosevelt motored to the Morgenthau home near Fishkill after attending morning services at St. James Episcopal church with Mrs. Roosevelt and his mother, Mrs. James Roosevelt Sr.

Returning late in the afternoon he drove through a lane of blue-clad volunteer firemen of Hyde Park who came to his residence to present a badge designating 25 years of membership as a member of the volunteers.

Members of the families of the 125 firemen gathered around the bright red hose wagon before the front porch of the Roosevelt home to witness the award.

Addressing the President as "Neighbor Roosevelt," George Williams, financial secretary, recalled that the father of Mr. Roosevelt and the President's late brother, James, also were members of the volunteers, which were organized 90 years ago.

Donald Todd, the youthful president of the Eagle engine company to which the President belongs, presented the badge.

Pinning it on his coat after examining it, Mr. Roosevelt remarked, "I am glad it says exempt."

He congratulated the volunteers on the improvements in their apparatus and organization and suggested that residents on the outskirts of the city like himself acquire ponds or other storages of water to aid in fighting fires.

Mr. Roosevelt then shook hands with the volunteers and their families, calling them by their nick-names and reminiscing briefly about old experiences.

This evening, as senior warden of the church, the President received at his home the Rev. Frank Wilson, rector of St. James, and the vestrymen for a regular meeting.

The Rev. Mr. Wilson explained that it was a "routine meeting."

Until very recently she had taken an active part in the affairs of the First Christian church of East Point, of which she had been a member for many years. Her husband, the late John W. Cobb, died four years ago. He was also a member of a pioneer East Point family.

Mrs. Cobb is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Minnie Smith; a son, W. W. Cobb. Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the East Point First Christian church with the Rev. A. C. Peacock and E. A. Miller officiating. Burial will be in the College Park cemetery with Howard L. Carmichael in charge.

OFFICERS KILL NEGRO; SHERIFF IS WOUNDED

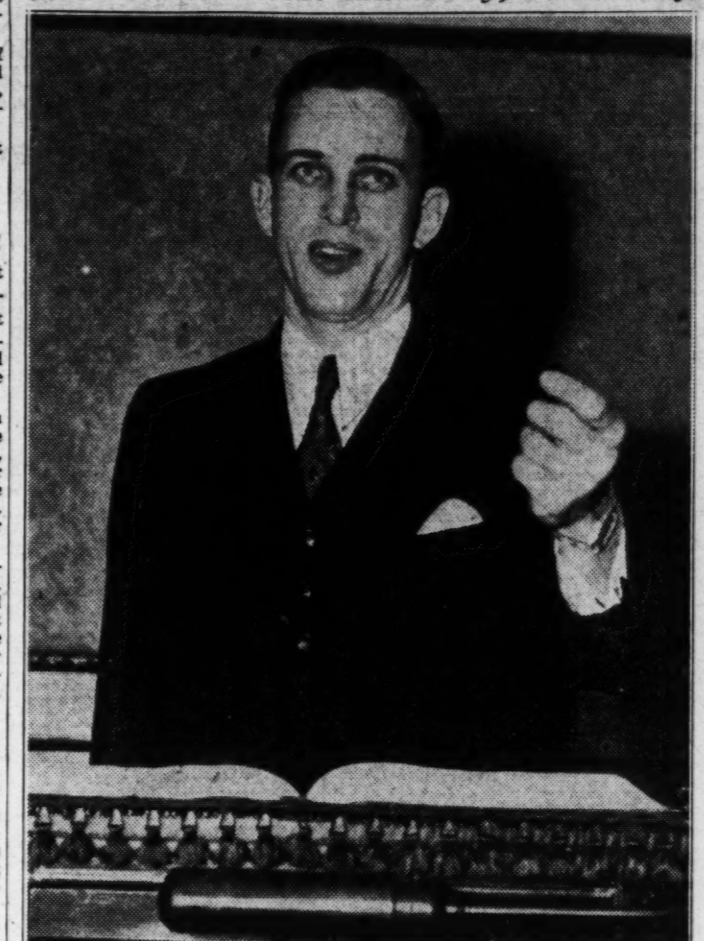

CARROLLTON, Ala., Nov. 3.—(AP) Sheriff Hood Ball, of Pickens county, was wounded and a negro he was seeking to arrest, was killed last night in a battle at a negro home near Reform.

The sheriff was struck in the hip by a bullet as the negro opened fire when the officer approached the house where he was hiding.

Sheriff Ball and Deputy Sheriff Copeland opened fire as the negro, William Randolph, fled after wounding the sheriff. He dropped with seven bullet holes in his body.

The officers sought to arrest the negro on charges of burglary filed in Tuscaloosa county.

Hard Times Divide Humanity, Pastor Says

REV. A. JULIAN WARNER.

Two Divisions of Humanity Result From Hard Times, Warner Says

(Editor's Note—This is the 424 to a series on Atlanta pastors and their services. Photos of the pastors in their pulpits and stories of their services will appear on succeeding Mondays.)

Under the pressure of the times that so many people are passing through, two important divisions of humanity are taking place, the Rev. A. Julian Warner, pastor of the Capitol View Presbyterian church, declared yesterday in his sermon. In one group are those persons who find their faith in an Almighty and All-Knowing God remains steadfast while in the other group, people find themselves despairing and taking a cold and indifferent attitude toward all of life.

The pastor said in part:

A favorite and popular way to begin an after-dinner speech, or to enter into a discussion of the times is to begin by speaking of the changing times in which we live. We are living in changing times, but that is nothing new, we always have to a more or less extent. If we stop changing we are in danger of stagnation. When we stopped building and stopped exchanging, and stopped buying we found ourselves in the throes of an economic depression. Let us welcome the changes of life. It has always been so and will continue to be as long as there is want of perfect wisdom and perfect power. Man finding himself limited both in wisdom and power must continually be adjusting himself to the changing circumstances of life. Professor Henry Drummond has aptly put it, "life is a constant adjustment of internal conditions to varying external conditions."

A change is always for the better or for the worse. Under the pressure of the times that so many people are passing through, two things are likely to happen in the minds of people everywhere; either they will find their faith in an unchanging, Almighty and All-Knowing God is a refuge to which they can flee and there meet the issues of life as they confront them; or, they may lose all hope, and find themselves despairing they may take a cold and indifferent attitude toward all of life. They may put away their tears and refuse to cry until their hearts become as steel and they become sublimely indifferent to all about them.

It is because of this danger, ever present, that we want to remind ourselves this morning of the great fact there is an unchanging God over all, directing the affairs of the world, whose eye sees the end from the beginning and permits the changes that His will may be done in and through all things. As He is infinite in wisdom and power, there can be no unforeseen emergency, no inadequacy of means, and nothing to resist the carrying out of His original intention. The uniformity of the laws of nature is a constant reminder of our unchanging God. These laws are now what they were at the beginning of time, and they are the same in every part of the universe. The whole government of God, as the God of nature, as manifested in His unchanging character. The most crying, and the most fundamental need of man today is a belief in this Almighty God.

Unchanging God Decries Change.

God "foreordains whatsoever comes to pass." In some He does it by His own immediate agency, such as in the Creation, in regeneration in man's heart, and in inspiration. In another way He simply permits the acts of rational, free creatures to be enacted in their natural course, these acts being according to His will yet they occur in the natural order of events. It is natural that in the business of life there should be prosperity. But if prosperity is built on unstable and superficial things then it is natural that sooner or later we should witness a downward trend. And although we cannot see it now we may be certain that these two, prosperity and depression, will work toward His ultimate end while He sees as plain as we see the present.

Future events are known to Him as certainly as those which are present. Take for example, the prophecies concerning the sufferings and death of Jesus Christ. The event was fixed, and the agents were appointed, but they were conscious of perfect freedom, and obeyed the inclinations of their own hearts, while they were doing what God had determined before said to be done. "Known to Him were all works from the beginning of the world." The whole train of events, from the creation to the general judgment, was present to His mind from eternity. Experience is daily teaching us, but to His eye, all things were open and manifest from the beginning. You may be sure that whether it is in prosperity, or in adversity, God is steadily carrying out His designs in the world. It is not for us to understand His design even for the present time. We do know He is over all and His will will be done and your concern and my concern should be to make sure our wills conform to His. Kingdoms rise and fall; wars lay the earth desolate; the bad passions of the human heart have full play and confuse the order and happiness of society. It may even appear that God has dismissed the world from His care. But our faith tells us that He directs and controls the operation of His creatures and makes the most depraved of them subservient to His purposes. Not one of them can interfere with the designs of our God.

God Bars Confusion.

There is the appearance of confusion only to us who are but a small part of the extensive and complicated system of the universe. We are unable to trace its connection with the past or the future. But all is order to that eye which looks at things through all space and all duration, using that which is good, and making that which is bad to carry out His purposes.

The ancient Roman government was hostile to Christ and Christianity, yet God decreed that the Christ should make His appearance in the world while Rome was in power. Practically the whole known world was under one government with law and order prevailing everywhere. Travel and communication was safer then than it has been at any time since up until modern times, for Roman legions guarded every avenue of commerce. With the speed and mortality rate of our present day implements of travel we will soon have to hand the record back to old Rome and say, so far as safety of travel is concerned, "You win!" All this about Rome was known and foreseen of God and He determined to use Rome, the enemy, as a means of spreading the Gospel. It was the greatest factor in making possible Paul's journeyings.

Understand me, I am not saying all is well in this world, far from it. There is misery, there is want, there is unrest, and there is sin in the world. I am not urging a passive resistance to these conditions by merely resigning to circumstances as the inevitable acts of fate. A knowledge of these conditions should cause Christian people to work for the cause of Christ today as they have never worked before. Wherever there is an opportunity to relieve suffering, to give encouragement and hope and cheer, we should do it in the spirit of our Master who "went about doing good." What a challenge to the church today, when men have tried so many ways to restore conditions to normal, for it to sound its trumpet note of man himself being restored to normal through Christ and Christ alone. Things will then return to normal as a consequence.

Beloved, look for the changes in life, expect them, anticipate them, count on them, for they are the inevitable in this life. Prepare your heart to meet them. This is a cruel, heartless, and faithless old world we are living in. But look beyond this world. A loving Father has provided a way out. He has given His word that He will see His own safely through to the next. Put your faith in Him and His word. You may not always be delivered from your lion's den as Daniel was, but this much you can stake your life on, you will be delivered safely before your Father's throne in glory.

AAA HEADS TO STUDY '36 ADJUSTMENT PLAN

Representatives Express Approval of Long-Term Contract Policy.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Thirty representatives of corn and hog producers convene here tomorrow for a week's study of the 1936 adjustment program.

Waiting their suggestions, farm administration officials discussed four principal objectives for next year:

1. An increase of from 25 to 30 per cent in hog production.
2. Simplification of the control machinery with increased emphasis upon local administration.
3. Assurance that a balance between corn and hog production would be maintained to prevent prices from getting out of line 1937.
4. Provision that at least part of the land taken from corn production be given over to crops which check soil erosion.

Officials said today that recommendations made by the farmers this week may have considerable weight in determining whether the new contracts shall be for four years.

The AAA chieftains have expressed general approval of the policy of offering long-term contracts, subject to cancellation at the end of a year. But it was explained that a definite decision on the matter in the corn-hog program has not been reached.

A suggested change in the method of determining hog benefit payments has been advanced in some quarters in the corn belt, but officials doubted that it would be adopted.

The suggested method would provide for payment of the actual number of hogs produced, rather than upon the percentage of base production allotted to each farmer, as at present.

Some officials said this "payment by head" plan would run into difficulties because of the variance in the number of pigs in a litter, which could scarcely be estimated in advance.

It was indicated that the AAA would favor an increase in minimum production requirements to qualify for base payments. Farmers of last year had to produce at least 25 per cent of their base production average in the years 1932 and 1933.

Payment of benefits in the reduction of payments might be provided, it was said, for farmers producing less or more base allotments. This was advanced as one possible way of increasing production to insure a larger supply of pork, and yet keep production under control.

Under the pressure of the times that so many people are passing through, two important divisions of humanity are taking place, the Rev. A. Julian Warner, pastor of the Capitol View Presbyterian church, declared yesterday in his sermon. In one group are those persons who find their faith in an Almighty and All-Knowing God remains steadfast while in the other group, people find themselves despairing and taking a cold and indifferent attitude toward all of life.

WHAT THE MILDNESS OF CAMELS LEANS TO FAMOUS AVIATORS

Lieutenant Commander Frank Hawks, U. S. N. R., famous holder of 214 speed records and the Harmon Trophy, says: "I've been flying for 19 years and smoking Camels almost as long. Making speed records tests the pilot as well as his plane. Camels never make me jumpy or bother my physical 'condition' in any way. As the athletes say, Camels are so mild they don't get the wind. And I've found they never upset my nerves. Camel must use choicer tobaccos."

"Speaking of cigarettes, I make it a rule to smoke Camels," says Mrs. T. W. Kenyon, sportswoman pilot. "They are the mildest cigarette I know. Morning, noon, and night, I can smoke Camels steadily. They never upset my nerves. And each Camel renews the zest and enjoyment of the last one!"

"They Never Get on Your Nerves"

"I appreciate the mellow flavor of Camels," says Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, the transpacific flyer (right), in a recent interview. "Camels refresh me so when I'm fatigued," he continues, "and they are so mild that I can smoke any number without throwing my nerves off key."

NEW TROPICAL STORM NEARS BAHAMA AREA

Florida's East Coast Believed
Out of Danger If Storm
Holds Course.

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 3.—(UP)—A tropical disturbance of hurricane intensity whirled down on the Bahamas tonight to menace the island group for the second time in two weeks. An advisory issued by the federal hurricane warning system at 3 p. m. said the storm is backtracking toward the islands about 14 miles per hour. Cat Cay, scene of President Roosevelt's fishing expedition last winter, and Eleuthera were believed in the storm's course and are expected to feel high winds. Arthur's Town, Rock Sound and Harbor Island, three small settlements in the eastern Bahamas, probably will feel full effects of the storm, the Weather Bureau advised. Florida not in danger.

Florida's lower east coast was not believed endangered unless the storm should veer sharply westward. Coast guard headquarters at Jacksonville reported two Belcher Oil Company steel barges broke adrift early today from the tug, Laura, and went ashore between Jupiter and Olympia. No men were on either of the craft.

The Weather Bureau advisory located the storm at 1 p. m. about 50 miles northeast of Hopetown, Great Abaco island, which is approximately 220 miles east of West Palm Beach. The storm, the advisory said, is moving almost due southward at 14 miles per hour and its center was to pass slightly east of Great Abaco.

Ships Warned.
The advisory warned all craft in the Bahamas group and on the southeast Florida coast. It also warned of tides above normal.

The hurricane is the second in two weeks to bring alarm to the Bahamas and is following its predecessor by taking a southward course, unusual for tropical disturbances.

Two weeks ago a hurricane blew into eastern Cuba and turned southward after causing death and destruction in Cuba and Jamaica. If the hurricane continues its present course, it will menace Cuba's eastern tip again, striking between Nuevitas and Baracoa.

CLIPPER IS REMOVED FROM POSSIBLE DANGER

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Within a few hours of her return here from a 2,400-mile circle flight, the China Clipper was dispatched to Kingston, Jamaica, today to save America's queen of commercial airlines from any possibility of a struggle with unruly waves.

Her wing spread, 130 feet, the China Clipper is too big to be housed in hangars here and with the warning of high tides, Pan-American Airways ordered the crew from their beds and sent the country's largest plane south.

POLICE SEIZE SUSPECT AT WIFE'S FUNERAL

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Police today arrested L. L. Wilson, 35, at the funeral of his wife, Annie Belle Wilson, and charged him with murder.

Mrs. Wilson was found dead in their home Friday night.

Dr. R. R. Killinger, county medical examiner, performed an autopsy on the body today and said the woman had been stabbed in the chest twice with a keen instrument.

The autopsy was performed, it is said, when neighbors told police the Wilsons had fought several times.

HEAT WILL CONTINUE UNDER CLEAR SKIES

Clear skies and temperatures approximating those of yesterday are in store for Atlantans today, according to the forecast issued by the United States Weather Bureau station at Candler field.

The mercury will climb to the vicinity of 78 degrees in the afternoon, the forecaster predicted. Yesterday's extremes were 57 and 78 degrees. No rain is in sight for the next 48 hours.

NEGRO BANDIT KILLS MAN 'BLOCKING' PATH

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 3.—(AP)—H. B. Murphy, 30, of Wallace, N. C., was shot and killed early today when he unwittingly blocked the path of a negro bandit who was escaping after holding up a street car.

The negro, a passenger on the trolley, flashed a gun as the car came to a stop at the end of the line on Petersburg pike, grabbed the motor-man's cash box and dashed across the street and through a filling station.

Shouts of the motorman and several bystanders who saw the robbery, attracted a crowd of pursuers who chased the negro where he met Murphy. The negro, without warning, fired three shots, and Murphy fell fatally wounded.

The negro made good his escape.

GUNMEN TRIO SOUGHT BY OFFICERS IN IOWA

BRITT, Iowa, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Officers with orders to "shoot first" patrolled north central Iowa highways today in a search for three gunmen who blazed a desperate, bloody trail through that section yesterday.

The chief of the State Bureau of Investigation said he believed the men were members of a bank robbery gang which had planned to hold up a bank early yesterday morning.

The gunmen shot and killed James Zrostlik, 25-year-old Britt farmer, opening fire on his car without warning as he, his wife and small son were en route to church early yesterday. They fled in Zrostlik's car.

Nation-Wide Interest Is Centered On Elections in Half Dozen States

Observers Seek 'Tips' on Next Year's Trends Through Vote Tuesday; Democratic Victory Is Forecast in Kentucky, New York Congressional Ballots.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—(AP)—A Sabbath lull in national political blazes centered attention today on Tuesday's elections in half a dozen states as observers sought hints on next year's trends.

Two members of congress will be chosen in New York and a third in Kentucky. While democratic victory in all three contests has been forecast, pluralities will be compared with 1934.

President Roosevelt, who must face the ballot box crucible one year from today, was in Hyde Park to cast his vote in a hotly-contested battle for control of the lower house of the state legislature.

Chairman Henry P. Fletcher, of the republican national committee, has declared that "the New Deal stands at the bar of public opinion in the native state of its leaders" in appealing for republican victory.

But Postmaster-General Farley, who is both national and state democratic chairman, insisted the contest would be on state issues only, although expressing willingness to make it a New Deal test "if the republicans want to have it that way."

The democrats now have 76 seats, the republicans 73, and there is one vacancy.

A democratic split in Kentucky has raised republican hopes there in the race for governor. The democratic candidate, A. B. Chandler, has sought support to "assure the re-election of President Roosevelt in 1936."

His republican opponent, Judge King Swope, has confined his campaign to local issues, encouraged by attacks made on Chandler by Kentucky's present democratic governor, Ruby Laffoon.

The Blue Grass state also will vote on a proposal to restore prohibition. Neither gubernatorial candidate has taken a stand on the liquor issue. Philadelphia and Cleveland are the chief large cities with mayoralty contests which may have significance.

John B. Kelly, former Olympic oarsman, wants to be the first democratic mayor of the Pennsylvania city. His opponent is S. Davis Wilson, city controller and a republican.

Their bitter contest reached a peak last week when a grand jury report charged Wilson used part of a $65,000 municipal fund for "political purposes."

Wilson contended he had been "victimized."

In Cleveland, Mayor Harry L. Davis, former republican governor of Ohio, was rejected by the voters in a primary which resulted in pitting Ray Miller, former democratic mayor, against Harold L. Burton, independent republican. Both have lambasted the Davis administration.

New Jersey will elect its entire general assembly and Walter E. Edge, former republican senator, and others have injected national issues into the campaign.

Virginia will choose a new legislature, and Mississippi a legislature and state officials, but these campaigns are believed to offer little or nothing in the way of auguries for 1936.

GIRL, 18, IS ASSAULTED BY MORON IN CHICAGO

Woman Prisoner Held Nine Hours Before Being Released on South Side.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—(AP)—An 18-year-old girl was kidnapped and assaulted early today in the latest of a series of moronic attacks that has nonplussed authorities.

Her assailant, armed with a knife and revolver, appeared as the girl and her escort, Urban Kimmel, 20, were leaving a dance in suburban Blue Island. They drove to Willow Springs, where Kimmel was robbed and ejected.

Despite an intensive search by highway patrolmen aroused by Kimmel, the moron held the young woman prisoner nine hours before he let her out of the machine on the far South Side.

Although the girl was placed under a physician's care, she gave officials a thorough description of the abductor.

Detectives have sought a man of his general description since he spread terror through the West Side by whipping and assaulting several women. Within the last week one woman was brutally beaten by an intruder who wielded a lead pipe, another was struck with a hammer and a girl was assaulted by a degenerate gunman who forced his way into her hotel room.

YOUTH KILLS GIRL, 16, AND ENDS OWN LIFE

ASHLAND CITY, Tenn., Nov. 3.

(AP)—While several friends and relatives looked on, 16-year-old Velma Simmons was fatally shot this afternoon above five miles from here by a farm youth described by officers as James Krantz, who then ended his own life with a bullet in the head.

The sheriff said that two hours before the shooting young Krantz had stabbed Rufus Binkley, 20, in the abdomen as the two young men were walking home from church. He quoted witnesses of the shooting as saying that Krantz walked into a family gathering and fired one shot into the young girl's head. She died almost instantly. The boy then walked out on the porch and shot himself in the temple, living only a few minutes.

Binkley, in a serious condition from the knife wounds, was taken to a Nashville (Tenn.) hospital for treatment.

RICHBERG HOLDS HOPE NRA MAY BE SALVAGED

Former Administrator Says
His New Book Will Not Attack F. D. R.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Donald R. Richberg said today he is opposed to a constitutional amendment to meet supreme court objections to the invalidated NRA.

Expanding this statement, made in a publisher's announcement of his forthcoming book, Richberg said in an interview he believes a new NRA law can be written to stand up under the high tribunal's scrutiny without a constitutional change.

"I haven't written about personal-ities," said the man who succeeded General Hugh Johnson as NRA administrator. "Nor have I tried to get even with anyone. I've tried to show the history that caused the creation of NRA, and what can be done about it now."

Richberg, who unsuccessfully defended the old NRA law before the supreme court last spring in the Schechter "sick chicken" case, would not expand his views on "what can be done about it now."

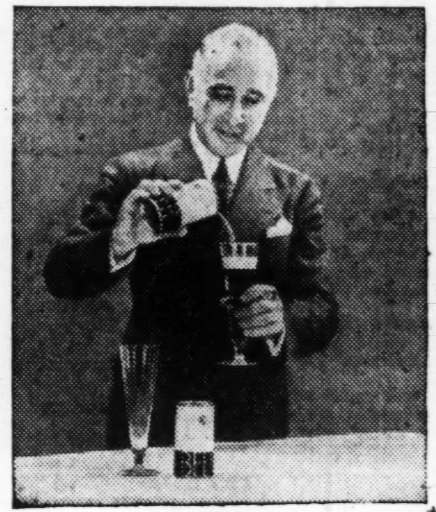

He said, however, that his book "The Rainbow" would not attack the administration, but that he was "trying to help."

Retired Minister Beaten.

MOORESVILLE, N. C., Nov. 3.—(AP)—H. H. Cassidy, 70, retired Presbyterian Minister of Davidson, was severely beaten about the head today by two unidentified men who pulled the aged man from his horse as he was riding over farm property he owns.

MAKE IT YOUR GUIDE, TOO

This is the famous Keglinea can—hermetically sealed, non-refillable—that protects the beer, the brewer and you. First marketed in January, in one city, by one brewer; today it is in almost every state where beer is legal—and the demand far exceeds the supply.

BUY the brand of beer you like best. But be sure you buy it, not just "in cans", but in Keglined cans.

This is the difference:

When you buy beer in Keglined cans, you are buying it in the can that made canned beer a success. You are buying it in the can that has guided beer-lovers to better beer 75 million times since January.

Better beer? Yes. We have asked thousands, "Why do you like beer in Keglined cans?" They give several reasons, but the big reason is, "because it tastes better."

The word "Keglined" appears only on cans made by us. It means each can is lined with our special lining that, like the lining of a brewer's keg, protects beer flavor, and brings you beer in the same fine condition it left the brewery. Be sure you look for the word "Keglined" on the side of every can of beer or ale before you buy.

Flat-top, hermetically sealed, non-refillable can opens in a jiffy with the handy opener you get free from your dealer.

The Keglined can brings you beer, or ale, in the same fine condition it left the brewery. That's why people say beer in Keglined cans "tastes better."

A Keglined can holds 12 ounces, same as a bottle, but stacks in half the space in your refrigerator—an added advantage of the Keglined can.

You pay no deposit; have no bottles to return, no "empties" to mess up the kitchen. Just throw the can away when it's empty.

NEGRO THUG HOLDS UP RESTAURANT AT GRADY

Several thugs were fired at a young negro last night after the youth, at pistol point, held up a restaurant at 24 Butler street, S. E., escaping with $15 from the cash register.

The scene of the hold-up was the restaurant of Eugene Price, located near the emergency clinic of Grady hospital. Price told detectives the bandit entered when he was alone, drew a pistol and then robbed the till.

Price fired several shots at the fleeing bandit after the hold-up. The incident caused considerable excitement in the hospital.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Under the hush of shadowy ceilinged St. Mary's cathedral, the Rt. Rev. James Matthew Maxon tonight became the fourth bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Tennessee in impressive ceremonial rites of the church.

Lady, clergy, and churchmen gathered in the spacious cathedral to witness the first installation in this diocese of a bishop according to the letter of the Episcopal church ceremonial service. Bishop Maxon succeeds the late Bishop Thomas Frank Gailor.

000 to the credit of the two institutions.

If the measure is passed, the board bloc, which now appears to have a majority of the board committed to preservation of the $50,000 for the schools, will have council support.

Brewer Seeks Diversion.
Ernest J. Brewer, board president, is one of the leaders of the effort to divert the money, and hire architects, which he and his colleagues contend are demanded before the federal government will begin the school program.

Brewer Saturday predicted an early adjustment of the board controversy, but passage of the resolution by council would, it was believed, offer another obstacle to composition of board differences.

There also will be a council resolution to sell $100,000 worth of the school bonds immediately in order that work on seven of the 15 projects WPA has accepted, can be begun without delay.

Dr. Daniel Johnson, 84, pioneer Atlantan and president of the Johnson Estates, will tender the deed to the eight-acre tract in the thirteenth ward through Councilman Alvin Richards. It was anticipated, Dr. Johnson Saturday announced he was ready to give the tract to Atlanta for park purposes, and George I. Simons, general manager of parks, was enthusiastic about obtaining it.

Mayor Key was believed to have successfully spiked any serious threat that his veto will be overridden in the Steiner matter when he delivered an ultimatum to the effect that he will refuse to pay the city's $35,000 share of the $100,000 unless ordered to do so by the courts. PWA has agreed to provide the remaining $45,000.

TRAPPED YOUTH HANGS BY FINGERS IN ICE CAR

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 3.—(AP)—For two hours Pat Ulmer, 18, hung by three fingers in the empty ice well of a railroad refrigerator car. Ulmer, who entered the car to ride to his home at Van, Texas, said today the well lid slammed on his hand as he tried to climb out.

The youth's shouts finally attracted trainmen. He was given emergency treatment here.

CREW OF 21 MEN LOST AS SWEDISH SHIP SINKS

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The crew of 21 of the Swedish steamer Gerd was lost last night in a north sea collision with the Finnish barque Lingard.

The Gerd sank so quickly the crew was unable to launch lifeboats. Lloyd's register lists the Gerd as a ship of 2,092 gross tonnage and the Lingard as a sailing barque of 1,039 gross tons.

Wide Chasm Between League, Italy On Peace Plan Seen by Diplomats

By JOSEPH E. SHARKEY.
GENEVA, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Baron Pompeo Aloisi carried first-hand information to Benito Mussolini on the League of Nations' sanctions lineup tonight while neutral diplomats, despite Italy's announcement she will make concessions to the cause of peace, believed a wide chasm divided that warring nation and the League.

Aloisi entrained for Rome after composing a lengthy report on the League session which yesterday decided to clamp the full weight of economic sanctions on the fascist state November 18—sanctions calculated to make Il Duce give up his war adventure.

Saturday's session also was characterized by an unanimous insistence on the necessity of conciliation, but there was a general belief a vast amount of it will have to take place before opposing views are reconciled.

Sir Samuel Hoare, the British foreign secretary, and Premier Laval, of France, it was believed, will make a determined effort to advance peace negotiations before November 18 and the automatic enforcement of sanctions.

But it was thought in most quarters that the elections in Great Britain, scheduled for November 14, will make any immediate progress unlikely. Moreover, with Sir Samuel proclaiming that any peace must be within the framework of the League, of-

MONETARY SYSTEM REFORMED BY CHINA

System Reform Includes
Nationalization of Silver,
Dollar Stabilization.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The Chinese government moved drastically tonight to solve its long-standing monetary troubles by announcing a four-point program of monetary reform.

It includes:
1. Nationalization of silver.
2. Restriction of bank notes to three government-owned banks.

3. Stabilization of the Chinese dollar at its present level.
4. Legalization of bank notes for payment of all debts expressed in terms of silver.

Announcement of the program, issued by Finance Minister H. H. Kung, was followed by a government decree effective tomorrow.

Under the nationalization order, all holders of silver are required to exchange it for legal tender notes, Kung said.

Unified Control.
He continued:

"Bank notes issued by the three government banks, the Central Bank of China, the Bank of China, and the Bank of Communications, shall be full legal tender and bank note reserves of the three banks shall be placed under unified control.

"Notes of all other issuing banks will continue in circulation but will gradually be withdrawn and be replaced by notes of the Central Bank. The finance minister's statement also said that for the purpose of stabilizing the dollar at the present level, (now approximately 30 cents in United States money), 'the government banks will buy and sell foreign exchange in unlimited quantities.'

Kung asserted the abandonment of the gold standard by many nations and the rise of world silver prices brought a serious over-valuation of China's currency and a severe drain on silver which was halted only in part by the export duty imposed October 15, 1934.

"As long as the value of currency remained high, deflation would have continued with increased severity," he said.

"Should the value fall and create a wide disparity in the domestic and foreign price of silver, as in fact has happened, extensive smuggling of silver would result."

Bank Reorganization.
The government-owned Central Bank, Kung said, would be reorganized as the Central Reserve Bank of China. It will be owned principally by banks and the general public, thus becoming an independent organization and devoting itself chiefly to maintaining the stability of the nation's currency.

The reserve bank will hold the reserves of the banking system and will act as a depository for all public funds. It will provide centralized discount facilities for other banks. It will not undertake general commercial business and after two years will enjoy the sole right to note issue. Measures also are being prepared, it was stated, to strengthen the commercial banking system and give increased liquidity to commercial banks, in order that they may have resources available to finance legitimate requirements of trade and industry.

These measures will include creation of a special institution to deal exclusively in the mortgage business.

Plans also have been completed by which it is hoped to balance the national budget within 18 months.

Under the new mandate, illegal possession of silver is a treasonable offense.

ACTION SEEN AS RESULT OF AMERICAN POLICY
WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Drastic monetary reforms decreed today by the Chinese government were regarded by some silver experts here as a direct outcome of the sharp rise in the world price of silver under the influence of heavy American purchases.

After the treasury started making purchases a year ago under the silver policy laid down by congress, China was quick to protest that the higher world price would harm its internal economic structure.

The law requires the United States to purchase silver until the treasury acquires a stock equal to one-third of its gold stock, or the silver price reaches $1.29 an ounce.

World market purchases by the United States slowed down, however, after the first heavy run of buying in August, 1934, and China under took to protect its supply of the metal by putting on an export ban.

Youth Shot to Death.

PULASKI, Tenn., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Roy Holley, 19, was shot to death on a public road about 15 miles from here today, 1934, and his first cousin, Ernie Holley, 45, was taken into custody by county officers in connection with the shooting.

PRODUCER HALTS SUIT AGAINST GRETA GARBO

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—(AP)—David Schratter, German film producer now living in Hollywood, has ordered dismissed an $11,204 action he filed against Greta Garbo, film actress now in Sweden, asserting that he lent her the money at various times.

Notice of the dismissal was sent from superior court here to Miss Garbo. The complaint had alleged Schratter advanced 5,000 kronen to Miss Garbo in Stockholm while she was in his employ, and 10,000 more kronen and 10,000 marks to her in Berlin.

FALLS ONTO BEEHIVE, STUNG, BREAKS BONES

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Rustin Felt, 46, of Savannah, fell out of a tree onto a beehive and in addition to a broken shoulder and internal injuries received serious stings.

Hospital attendants today described his condition as poor, adding that he was in great pain.

The fall occurred while Felt was spending a week-end at the farm of a brother at Claxton, Ga. Felt was stung about the head and face.

TREAT A COLD IN THE FIRST STAGE!

A cold ordinarily goes through 3 stages. The Dry Stage, the first 24 hours; the Watery Secretion Stage, from 1 to 3 days; and the Mucous Secretion Stage. The first stage is the time to "nail" a cold—and Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine usually does it. Doesn't "monkey" with a cold but treats it decisively and thoroughly. At all druggists.

Mr. and Mrs. Hecht Entertain Friends With Travel Movies

By Sally Forth.

SIXTY friends of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hecht enjoyed a colorful description last evening by way of motion pictures, of their recent trip around the world. The guests assembled at the Hecht home on Peachtree street, where the hosts received them wearing native and Oriental dress. Mrs. Hecht's beautiful Chinese dress was purchased by her in Shanghai. Lavishly embroidered in Chinese figures, the dress was fashioned of heavy crepe in a true sky-blue shade.

Following a buffet supper lights were lowered and guests seated in the spacious living room of the Hecht home to view moving pictures of their hosts' travels. So realistic were the scenes, shown in color, of foreign lands visited by the Hechts that the Atlantans felt they were transported to Egypt, India, China, Japan and many other countries beyond the ocean. Brief stops were made during the showing of the film for Mr. and Mrs. Hecht to explain or to describe some of the traveling, so to speak, even more real and interesting.

Mia Lotte, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hecht, assisted her parents and she wore a geisha girl's dress which was bought in Japan. Next Saturday Miss Lotte will entertain a group of her little friends at a Japanese party. Again she will don her geisha dress and perform the regular Japanese tea ceremony, which is of such importance in Japan and which she learned while in that country, for the pleasure of her youthful guests.

THE NOVEMBER issue of the Junior League's official publication, "The Cotton Blossom," is filled with timely and constructive news. Each article, written by a league member, shows a thorough knowledge of the subjects presented and is written in concise and intelligent manner. The contents of the pamphlet give a colorful word picture of human needs which the Junior League strives to lessen through its many worthy projects.

Appropos of Atlanta's forthcoming Community Chest campaign, one page of "The Cotton Blossom's" edition is devoted to its cause. Written by one of the League's most talented members, the article ties up with the approaching visit to Atlanta of President Roosevelt, to whom is left solutions to the economic problem which will prevent so much poverty.

"New Ideas for Volunteer Service" is the subject of an article written by Elizabeth Tuller Nicol. As volunteer service is an important activity of the League's program, Mrs. Nicol outlines the various types of service requiring the need for intelligent workers in the aftermath of the depression. Her wide experience in social service work qualifies this valuable Junior League to discuss intelligently the opportunities offered volunteers in this branch of work.

An appeal for workers at Eggleston Memorial hospital is made by Caroline Crumley Roberts. Since the hospital is the League's chief project, Mrs. Roberts urges the co-operation of each member to assume her responsibility toward the hospital work. She tells of the new system created by the hospital which calls for the services of fifty Junior League members. Sally extends congratulations to "The Cotton Blossom's" editorial staff upon its November issue as well as to the contributors of worthwhile copy for its make-up.

Barbara Bell Patterns

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1766-B is a hostess gown or negligee. The hostess gown is most often made of velvet this season, for velvet is the most luxurious of all fabrics, and women love it for its richness, its softness, its effect of enhancing femininity. Black is beautifully adapted to this purpose. Rich dark red; soft purple shades; sapphire blue; brown, the color of a pleasant smile, all are lovely when evenings are cold.

Now, of course, this is a perfectly grand negligee, for the most intimate moments. In that case, satin, heavy crepe, or rayon will do very well, and perhaps the pastel shades will be more appealing.

Very long, is this model, trails a little. It fastens far to the left side, clear up to the shoulder, held there by a single button. The long sleeves are of contrasting color, and they hug the wrist in most Madame X fashion.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE. As a week-old baby Sugar Friddle, in Virginia, where Sophie Friddle, the super-industrial, greets her with "hello, Sugar," and as Sugar she went on the record. As she grows older and other children begin to question her, she runs crying to "Mother," aren't you? My name is Friddle so yours must be, too. You're Sugar Friddle. Sugar helps to care for the younger children but when she goes to the board of directors decries that she must go. Kindly Miss Friddle places her as nursemaid for Mrs. Dick Le Master, two-year-old son, Skeeter, but is greatly worried about Sugar who has given her a very pretty girl, attractively red-headed, Johnny De Ville, also 17, who dreams of being a great artist, must leave the orphanage too. Sugar promises to wait for him until he realizes his ambitions. When she goes to the beautiful Le Master home she does not see her mistress, Eurasia, the colored cook, shows her to a room. Le Master will pay her $1 a week. Skeeter likes her immediately and a pretty girl her own age introduces herself as Zanie Lou Langworthy. Mrs. Le Master's sister. She is sympathetic and friendly. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

thought of that. Servants aren't allowed to have company, are they?" "Only in the kitchen. But you wait. Little fixer will fix that. Hurry! It's only five minutes till six."

"What are you going to do?"

"I'm going to let him in myself. I'll dash down and ask Eurasia to let me know if the coast is clear. You wait in the back hall, and I'll call you when he comes."

"Oh, gosh!" Sugar gasped. "He doesn't know my name."

"That won't matter," Zanie Lou assured her. "I'll just tell him Sugar will be ready in a minute and yodel for him until he realizes his ambitions. When she goes to the beautiful Le Master home she does not see her mistress, Eurasia, the colored cook, shows her to a room. Le Master will pay her $1 a week. Skeeter likes her immediately and a pretty girl her own age introduces herself as Zanie Lou Langworthy. Mrs. Le Master's sister. She is sympathetic and friendly. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY."

INSTALLMENT XI.

"Ow!" Sugar hobbled painfully. "These pumps! I should have known better than to walk so far."

"I'll find some sandals for you. While I look for something for you to put on, hop into the tub and take a good bath. That'll help. And you're not going down to your tub in the basement. I'll take too long. Use mine."

"But, what would your sister say?"

"Will you stop worrying about Jane Lee! It's my tub. I'll take a chance of breaking out with orphans' hives or something. I've got some swell bath salts that'll make you reek like the sultan's favorite."

Zanie Lou gave orders and Sugar followed them, in a daze. In a little while she was radiant in a long white gown of organdy with a close-fitting lace dinner hat on her curls. A fresh pair of chiffon stockings and flimsy little white sandals made her feet feel good as new. When Zanie Lou finally led her to the long mirror in her bathroom she wanted to sob.

"Oh!" she cried breathlessly. "This must be a dream."

Zanie felt a little like weeping, too. "You're—so beautiful you make me think of an angel." She shook her head wonderingly. "Oh, Sugar, you could be a movie star if you went out to Hollywood!"

"Silly!" Sugar gave her a little shove. "It's just the improvement because you let me wear your clothes. Anyone would look pretty in these lovely things."

"See you! Wait till the boys see you. Your Mister O'Reilly has seen the most beautiful women in the world in New York, and I'll bet he'll want to kidnap you."

"Goff!" Zanie Lou was putting the finishing touches to Sugar's lips. She stopped short. "Oh!" she jumped excitedly. "he'll come to the front door!"

Sugar's face dropped. "I hadn't

"I reckon it's wrong, but when I'm a little better than usual, I can't help expectin' Providence to do something nice for me."

(Copyright, 1935, for The Constitution.)

Sugar waited for Scoop's laugh. He didn't disappoint her.

"So, the little lady doesn't divulge her name to strangers. Okay, I'll call you Lollypop."

Sugar felt a little desperate. "But my name is Sugar Friddle! Truly, Call me Lollypop, if you like, though. I believe I like it better. It couldn't be sillier than my own name."

"No foolin'!" Scoop turned to her with a broad grin. "Is your name really Sugar Friddle? There's nothing the matter with it. Except it's a bit different. But you'll always be Lollypop to me."

Sugar was tempted to get out of the car and give the smart New Yorker a piece of her mind. But she decided there was no sense in getting riled. Everybody laughed at her funny name. And she wouldn't have any friends left if she got angry every time. It was going to take a lot of patience to keep from showing her feelings, though.

When Scoop and Sugar walked into the dining room of the Baker hotel, business practically stopped for a few seconds. They found a table for two near the back and sat down.

Scoop was aware of all eyes upon his dinner party and was very much pleased with himself. In the afternoon the little red-head had been pretty. But in dinner clothes she was ravishing. Like a little doll bride in her white gown and lace cap. He drew in his breath sharply when Sugar smiled happily and revealed the hidden dimple in her right cheek.

DRESDEN CHINA IS NOT MADE IN DRESDEN

The much-admired Royal Dresden china is not made at Dresden as is commonly believed, but is made at a factory 18 miles farther down the Elbe, at the city of Meissen. Many people visit this place each year to see the production of this china. Strange as it may seem (as if some Chamber of Commerce agreement) Meissenware is not made at Meissen but is made in Dresden.

FIRE, FOOD AND FEASTING. I—Early Ways of Cooking.

Since men found fire, long ago in the stone age, they have used it in two main ways—to keep themselves warm, and to cook their food.

Another method of stone cooking was used by natives of New Zealand. A hole was dug in the ground and a fire was built in it. Then stones were dropped on the fire. When the stones were hot enough, food was wrapped in green leaves and placed over them. Then a mat soaked in water was used to cover the food wrapped in leaves, and soil was put above the mat to form an outside cooking.

That led to cooking which was a kind of baking and steaming together. The New Zealand tribes felt that it made the food taste very good indeed.

Cooking over an open fire was common in Europe for thousands of years after the end of the stone age. A popular method during the middle ages was turning on a spit. A pointed rod was thrust through geese, pigs or other animals which had been prepared for cooking. Then the meat was roasted or broiled.

A quaint picture made in England hundreds of years ago shows two men cooking in that way. One is taking care of the fire, and the other is turning the rod, or spit.

Ni-Late Company Reports Steady Gain in Demand for Roznoile Products

OIL, SALVE MEET VARIED DEMANDS

Two Preparations Constitute a Virtually Complete Answer to Needs.

In the athletic trainer's room and on the field, in factory and office and in the home, scores of users are daily discovering the efficacy and the multiplicity of advantages of Roznoile Analgesic and Rubbing Oil and its companion preparation Roznoile Mutton Suet Salve.

These Roznoile products, developed through years of research and painstaking laboratory experiments under the supervision of E. S. Morris, president of the Ni-Late Manufacturing Company, are to be found on the shelves of nearly every reputable drugstore, both having experienced, in recent years, a phenomenally increased demand over a wide area.

Roznoile Analgesic and Rubbing Oil is in particularly strong demand by college sports trainers and in industrial mills, where it has been found to serve a long-sought need in the treatment of strained muscles, sprains, minor cuts and bruises. Formerly known as Oil of Rosin it is a versatile first-aid treatment, useful and effective in cases where an ointment, liniment, analgesic or emollient is required.

With blustery autumn and winter days, with their uncertain weather, approaching, and with colds becoming more and more prevalent, Roznoile Mutton Suet Salve is definitely "in season," as it is at all other times of the year. Few fail to remember the mutton suet that grandmother used to make. Its efficacy in the treatment of colds is made doubly efficient by its combination with the healing qualities of turpentine and other ingredients in Roznoile, known by the now-familiar term: "Thirty-two First Aids in One." This salve, it is asserted, is "five times more penetrating" than other preparations, with a resulting increase in effectiveness. In addition to its quick relief quality in the treatment of colds and croup conditions, its excellent emol-

J. M. High Selects Walker For Dependable Roofing Job

The J. M. High Company department store building at Whitehall and Hunter streets is but one of the major roofing jobs recently completed by the Charles N. Walker Roofing Company.

More than a quarter of a century of reliable service, backed up by the highest standards of workmanship, the best obtainable materials and an unflinching integrity, mark the Charles N. Walker Roofing Company as one of the south's outstanding institutions of its kind.

Business institutions not only in Atlanta but throughout Georgia recognize the Charles N. Walker Roofing Company's record for dependability since its establishment in 1908, and turn to it with full confidence that their roofing jobs will bring a guaranteed satisfaction.

Among these old-established companies which recently have contracted with the Charles N. Walker Roofing Company for roofing was the J. M. High Company, one of Atlanta's major department stores, which this year celebrated its 51st anniversary.

The J. M. High Company roofing job included its main building at the corner of Whitehall and Hunter streets, and the large structure adjoining it on Hunter street, occupied by its furniture department. The main building, formerly occupied by Chamberlain-Johnson-Dubose, has housed the J. M. High Company since 1918. It is more than a half-century old.

Some idea of the magnitude of the J. M. High Company buildings may be gained by knowledge of the fact that its roofing job involved an area of approximately 54,000 square feet. Yet even this huge figure does not cover all of the properties occupied by the company.

Koppers tar and gravel roofing was selected for the job, because of its durability, its weather-resisting qualities and its guaranteed protection as well as its economical features.

The J. M. High Company is only one of the old-established companies in the city or throughout the state which recently have turned to the Charles N. Walker Roofing Company for their roofing needs. Among the most recent commercial jobs have been that of the J. J. Mangum warehouse and the Johnnie Walker warehouse, both in Bremen, both of which selected the Walker organization because of the dependability of its products and service, and because of its long record of reliability.

SAFETY STRESSED BY SMITH & ERWIN

Agents for Southern Mutual Insurance Co. Point to Conservative Policy.

Conservative management, backed by conservative investment, combine to place the Southern Mutual Insurance Company in the front ranks among fire insurance institutions of the country, according to Julien Erwin, of the firm of Smith & Erwin, Atlanta agents.

The financial status of the Southern Mutual Insurance Company, a non-assessment institution owned by its stockholders, and its dividend record during the nearly nine decades since its establishment, are sources of pride to Mr. Erwin and to his associates. A recent statement showed the company's assets to be more than $1,700,000 in exceptionally strong and liquid investments, and its surplus close to $1,500,000.

Few insurance institutions can equal the dividend record of the Southern Mutual company, which shows, during the last half century or more, an average annual dividend of 50 per cent of the premiums paid. The dividend figure has stood at the 50 per cent level continuously since 1929.

The company, and its agents, always have pursued a policy of strict care in the selection of its "risks," all being high grade residential properties located in Georgia.

Besides the Southern Mutual Insurance Company, the firm of Smith & Erwin, which maintains offices at 449 Hurt building, represents the following insurance lines: Accident, life, health, burglary, plate glass, automobile liability and allied lines, and surety bonds. Among the lines represented are the Travelers Insurance Company, the New Hampshire Fire Insurance Company, the Home Underwriters of the Firemen's Fund Insurance Company, the Mechanics & Traders Insurance Company, and the Standard Accident Insurance Company.

Teachers Inspect, Place Stamp of Approval On Brownlee & Lively Dairy Plant, Service

This group of teachers, members of the summer demonstration school class at Emory University, recently visited the Brownlee & Lively Dairy on Briarcliff road, where they inspected the dairy herds, plant and facilities, and gave them their firm stamp of approval. Miss Avah Hughes, instructor of the class, is shown third from the left in the back row, and W. J. Brownlee and W. W. Lively, co-owners of the dairy, are first and sixth in the row, respectively. Others are teachers and principals from schools in Atlanta and throughout Georgia and from South Carolina, and a number of children who accompanied them to the dairy.

Clear-cut recognition of the absolute purity and wholesomeness of Brownlee & Lively milk and other dairy products is reflected in this popular Briarcliff road dairy's daily increasing patronage.

This recognition also is clearly reflected in the recent visit paid the Brownlee & Lively dairy by Emory University's summer demonstration class of teachers and in their unqualified stamp of approval given its products. These teachers, many of them from Atlanta schools, together with a number of children from Atlanta homes, visited the Brownlee & Lively plant under the direction of Miss Avah Hughes, their summer school instructor, and there made a complete inspection of every phase of the dairy's operation.

Though this is the only teachers' class to have visited the Brownlee & Lively Dairy, scarcely a day passes without visits from one or more classes of Atlanta school children. A model of dairy perfection, the Brownlee & Lively plant constitutes an ideal means of objective instruction.

With its recent purchase of the Bush Dairy, the Brownlee & Lively Dairy brought more blooded cattle into its herds. It has purchased a number of high-bred cattle during the summer months, including two registered prize winners exhibited during the Southeastern Fair, thus increasing its fine herds to a total of approximately 150, about 125 of which are being milked now. Thus it is in a position to supply to its countless Atlanta customers an almost unlimited daily supply of milk of the finest obtainable.

Absolute sanitation and cleanliness is maintained throughout the dairy plant. All equipment used in handling the milk undergoes daily sterilization, inside and out, and every

Mississippi State S. U. Game Tops S. E. C. Card This Week

It is high time the Georgia Tech people started going rabbit hunting.

I mean hunting for graveyard rabbits.

And sending in the left-hand foot to the football team.

A little lawn party at which four-leaf clovers are hunted would not be a bad idea.

Send them care the Georgia Tech team, care Tech Flats.

That Vanderbilt game they lost Saturday must stand as the high-water mark of bad luck.

Willie Geny, a very fine pass receiver and a good man carrying the ball, but not a particularly good defensive end, was the bearer of the bad tidings.

He had two courses open defending against a pass. He would either rush it, or drop back. He did neither. He was just at the line of scrimmage and caught a Tech pass to keep it from hitting his face. And went away from there. It was one of those things.

A man was in motion to call back one of Tech's touchdowns.

Kit Carson managed to deflect a ball that would have been caught for a touchdown.

These sort of games remain mysteries to me. Tech gained three times as much ground, made the Vanderbilt offense look bad, played better, smarter football; looked like a football team—and lost the ball game. By one lone point.

It's time that huzzy, known as Lady Luck, started being nice to those Engineers. If ever she does smile on them, they will wreck somebody's football hopes.

Meanwhile, a little rabbit hunting, please, and some searching for four-leaf clovers.

It won't hurt any.

MAJOR RALPH SASSE'S MAROONS.

If Major Ralph Sasse and his Maroons keep up their present football pace, they will be tearing down all the Confederate monuments on the squares of Mississippi towns and putting stone carvings of the Major in their places.

It so happens his team's Saturday victory over the Army must remain as one of the fine victories scored in intercollegiate by southern teams. It must rank with Georgia's victories over Yale, Tech's victories over Penn and California; Alabama's three Rose Bowl triumphs, Vanderbilt's victories over Minnesota and Ohio State, and other notable achievements by Dixie football teams.

It all goes to prove once more that football no longer possesses any sectional superiorities. Not that the Army has one of her great teams, perhaps, but still it is a good Army team and no West Point eleven is easy to beat.

All of which rebounds to Alabama's advantage. The Major recently admitted his team caught the Crimson at a disadvantage because of injuries and could not win again.

Come to think of it, that alone must stand as the unique statement of the year. Never before do I recall hearing a coach who had won an upset victory, admit his team couldn't do it again.

At any rate, the south may salute the Maroons of Starkville, Miss., for a very fine victory, in which the whole south shares some of the triumph.

NOTRE DAME'S VICTORY.

It is doubtful if even one of the late Knute Rockne's teams managed to thrill an entire nation any more than did the team coached by one of his players, Elmer Layden.

The Irish victory over Ohio State Saturday was a very splendid achievement. It proves conclusively that Layden has managed to give to the Notre Dame teams something they lacked immediately following Rockne's passing. And that was a supreme confidence in their ability to pull games out of the fire.

Not many football teams, trailing 13 to 0 after the first quarter, can pick up the broken threads of their game and knit them back into victory.

Scoring three touchdowns, one of them in the closing seconds of play, to win from Ohio State, had the whole nation talking. Not even the local games removed the Irish as the chief topic of conversation in the various towns over the nation.

During Rockne's reign at South Bend, Notre Dame became a sort of Alma Mater for everyone who didn't have one. The regular graduates of Notre Dame were joined by thousands who suffered and rejoiced with the South Bend team in defeat or victory.

And Elmer Layden has them at it again.

Now and then baseball will supply a last-inning rally. But football is a great game because it offers an opportunity such as Notre Dame took Saturday. And when football does produce one, it is always mightier than any other drama in sport.

A ROCKY ROAD FOR GEORGIA AND TECH.

Georgia returned home with a hard-won Florida victory. The Bulldogs, from all reports, played carefully and experienced a normal let-down following the defeat by Alabama the week before.

The statistics show Georgia played enough football to score several touchdowns. Just as did Tech in the loss to Vanderbilt. Georgia won by one.

Georgia now must get ready to meet Tulane in New Orleans next Saturday and L. S. U. in Athens the following week.

It is a rocky road for both of Georgia's major football eleven. Tech must prepare for Auburn and Alabama on successive weeks.

One interesting feature, which interests Georgia, is the L. S. U.-Mississippi State game next Saturday. Old Lou, from L. S. U., had a narrow squeak in the game with Auburn. Sasse's Maroons can hardly be expected to keep going at full tilt. But they may. If L. S. U. moves into Athens undefeated, the railroads can be getting ready to carry another throng of Atlantans to Athens for the game.

DR. TIGERT RELIEVES PRESSURE.

Dr. John J. Tigert, president of the University of Florida, sought to take the pressure off his football coaches by telling a civic club last week that Florida could get a championship team by hiring a lot of boys with foreign-sounding names. He took the pressure off very well. The civic organizations now are attacking Dr. Tigert, asking why a boy's name should be the subject of criticism. The football coaches are forgot, temporarily at least, as the guns turn toward the Doctor.

ROSE BOWL BID SEEN FOR IRISH BY COAST FANS

Californians Fear Golden Bears Are No Match, However.

By Paul Zimmerman.

PASADENA, Cal., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Notre Dame became the west's public choice No. 1 for the Rose Bowl bid today as it led the nation's list of diminishing undefeated eleven through a week-end of hectic encounters.

At the same time, California stepped hesitantly out in front as the Pacific coast's leading candidate with the only unblemished record on the western continent.

The west saw in Notre Dame's sensational triumph over Ohio State like-likelihood of Coach Elmer Layden's return to the scene of his personal triumph in 1925 when the Four Horsemen galloped over Stanford, 27 to 10, at the Rose Bowl. There was a mingled feeling of fear over the consequences should Notre Dame get the call on New Year's Day.

OUTPLAYED.

The west wondered how California, outplayed and outwitted by U. C. L. A. despite its 14-2 victory in yesterday's crucial contest, could possibly stand up against such a team as the Layden Lancers proved themselves to be.

Of course, there was more than a remote chance that the Golden Bears might not get the call since they must dispose of two very worthy opponents, Washington and Stanford, not to mention Little College of the Pacific, if they are to be voted the honor.

A victory for Washington at Berkeley next Saturday would throw the western half of the Rose Bowl race into a wild scramble.

Should California dispose of Washington and then lose to Stanford it is hard to tell what the wishes of the conference might be, especially in the face of the Indians' unimpressive Rose Bowl record. Of course, a Notre Dame-Stanford rematch would be an interesting contest.

Notre Dame has Northwestern, Army and Southern California remaining on its schedule and while it would appear that the Ramblers should be able to win these games, all are traditional foes of Layden's team.

OTHERS ELIGIBLE.

There are several other teams with more than a passing claim of eligibility for an invitation, including four in the east, two in the southwest, one in the south and another in the middle west.

The east has Dartmouth and Syracuse, both highly potential, along with New York, Princeton, Princeton, in view of a Princeton rejection two seasons ago, it was hardly probable that the Tigers ever will be asked again.

North Carolina was the lone candidate from the south. Southern Methodist and Texas Christian, of the southwest, remain unbeaten.

Besides Notre Dame, the middle west has in Marquette an unbeaten eleven with possibilities. Minnesota also is unbeaten and Iowa has not lost a game, although it was defeated by Indiana yesterday. These two teams, however, face the stone wall of Big Ten faculty objection to post-season encounters.

Gambler's Play By Quarterback Won for Micks

By Tommy Devine.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 3.—(UP)—A gambler's play was responsible for one of the most brilliant victories ever scored by a Notre Dame football team—yesterday's last-quarter rout of Ohio State's vaunted Scarlet Shooters. When Notre Dame's Irish quarterback and acting captain, "Diamond Jim" Brady, bet a "million" Gates and other gamblers, because the youngster from Mountville, W. Va., made an all-or-nothing bet in the last minute to give his team an 18-10 victory.

After Henry Pojman, reserve center, recovered a fumble on Notre Dame's own 49 and Andy Pliny, the hard-running halfback from Chicago had fought his way through the entire Buckeye team for a 32-yard gain, the ball rested on the 10-yard line. Sixty seconds of play remained, and the Irish trailed 13 to 12.

The ball was 10 yards in from the east side of the field. The orthodox play appeared to be on kick, which would waste a down and move the ball to the center of the field in position for an attempt to kick a field goal.

The Ramblers had defeated Pittsburgh 6 to 0 in the waning minutes of the game, but in seven minutes of that method and Marty Peters, the burly end who kicked that goal, was available. Ken Stiller, another place-kicker, and Bill Shakespeare, Notre Dame's kicking ace, were in the game.

But Romhart scorned the idea of three points. He was at the helm of a "hot" team; a team which sought to prove its right to be called the greatest Notre Dame eleven since Rockne's day, and was ready to gamble all to prove it.

One pass play missed fire but he tried another. Shakespeare tossed to Wayne Miller and the Irish had their victory.

Heroes in Notre Dame's play were numerous, but the major share of credit for the victory should go to Pliny, who kicked the winning field goal in superb fashion and the seven second-string linemen Coach Elmer Layden started in the second half. The "Micks" covered themselves on Notre Dame's own 49 and Andy Pliny, the hard-running halfback from Chicago had fought his way through the entire Buckeye team for a 32-yard gain, the ball rested on the 10-yard line. Sixty seconds of play remained, and the Irish trailed 13 to 12.

PETRELS MEET EMORY ELEVEN

With two straight victories tucked under their belts, the Oglethorpe Petrels enter a week of hard work for their coming game with Emory, at Rockmont, W. Va., Saturday.

Sam Russell, halfback, is the only one on the injury list at present and Coach Patrick will doubtless since last "glances on" this week in an effort to ward off old man jinx, which has rented Hermance field.

The victory over Erskine and the 12-7 drubbing handed Tech Teachers at Troy, Ala., has inspired the Petrels no little. They go about their practice with high interest and the new Patrick is well pleased with the team's showing.

Paul Runyan Wins Low Medal Honors

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—(UP)—Paul Runyan, New York, has finally ousted Henry Picard, Hershey, Pa., as the low medal scorer among the professional golfers, according to the figures announced today by the Professional Golfers' Association.

Picard is second with an average of 72 30-57 strokes for 87 rounds. Harry Cooper, Chicago, moved into third place with an average of 72 48-71 for 71 rounds. Johnny Revolta, Milwaukee, the new P. G. A. champion, dropped to fourth with an average of 72 4-5 strokes for 80 rounds.

Last-Quarter Rallies Feature Big Games

Tech, Georgia Games Are Among Those Decided in Final Period.

By Ralph McGill.

Saturday was a day of acute suffering for quite a few of the boys coaching football.

There were so many games in which the issue was postponed until the final quarter that a large number of the coaching fraternity were kept on the proverbial pins and needles.

Down at Jacksonville, Ray Mehre, of Georgia, was suffering acutely. There were but eight minutes left to play when the break came that gave Georgia a scoring chance. And then, when his team took it, he had to retrieve as Florida pounded to the 14-yard line where the final whistle caught them.

Mehre was a bit limp, no doubt, when that was all over. Atlanta saw Ray Morrison, with his team fumbling about and on the short end of a 13-to-7 score, get a reprieve in the fourth quarter when Geny intercepted a pass to run it back and tie the score. Throgmorton's point-after won the game.

BERNIE MOORE. The coach down at L. S. U., must have been suffering the extremes of torture as game with Auburn moved to within two minutes of a close and the score 0 to 0. His boys came through with a pass to win.

The Notre Dame defeat of Ohio State, of course, topped the list of comebacks. The Irish scored three times late in the fourth quarter to win the game after being behind, 13 to 0, for three quarters.

The list of fourth-quarter decisions is a long one. Major Ralph Sasse's eleven thrashed in the fourth quarter to make sure their victory over Army at West Point.

Villanova waited until late in the fourth period to score six points and defeat Detroit.

Stanford won from Santa Clara with a fourth-quarter field goal by Moscrip, who kicked two last week to win for his team.

Syracuse scored its victory in the final quarter of the game with Penn State.

Michigan State toppled Pop Warner's Temple team from the list of the undefeated with a last-gasp victory.

Maryland kept her coach in agony until the last quarter before beating Virginia.

THE TARZAN TWINS No. 55

When Gudah, the mad elephant, charged him with screaming fury, Tarzan sought safety in headlong flight. The Jungle Lord was the bravest of men; he had no fear of death, but neither did he care to risk his life in foolish heroics when the hazard would serve no good purpose.

He knew well that only by a miracle could he conquer this mad dreadnaught of the jungle; but he did expect to escape by flight. The ponderous elephant is swift in short charges, but few living things could equal the lightning speed of the jungle-reared ape-man.

Never, however, had he encountered an elephant so swift as Gudah. The beast's madness seemed to stimulate his muscles to incredible activity. But Tarzan, continuing his chosen course, slowly increased the interval that separated him from Gudah's pounding feet.

Then fate suddenly weighted the balance in favor of Gudah. Tarzan stepped on a razor-edged stone hidden by the stubble. Though the soles of his feet were tough as leather, the stone cut deep into his flesh and rendered him lame. Thus Gudah drew near to triumph!
